

Paving the path to Purchasing 4.0 - www.apurchasingd.com

VIEWPOINT

5 Ways Cost Management Certification Benefits Your Career

Michael Betz
Account Manager
mgbetz@apurchasingd.com

“A 4-Month Online Development Program”

Are you looking to advance your career potential by taking an online certification course? If so, here are 5 ways in which APD’s Cost Management Certification benefits your career:

1. Increases earning potential

It is a fact that the more education you have the more money you will make. When you obtain the skills employers seek, you will find yourself in demand, with advantages for career success and the opportunity to make more money.

2. Provides a skillset that connects you with peers of your industry

In APD’s Cost Management Certification Course we encourage each participant to participate as much as possible, engaging with the instructor Jeff Burris and other participants in the course. This course will help assist with learning the lingo of the purchasing world allowing you to easily communicate with your peers. You will also be able to conduct effective knowledge-based negotiations to obtain cost transparency and move towards optimal pricing.

3. Provides opportunity for career advancement

Employers look at education and ongoing training when deciding to hire new employees. Not only does the APD Cost Management Certificate look appealing to employers, but this course also accounts for 32 hours of continuing education credits demonstrating commitment to your career.

4. Demonstrates commitment to professional and personal growth

Completing APD’s Cost Management Certification Program demonstrates that you are committed to understanding the best practices of sourcing events. It also means that you are serious about contributing to company success by helping to operate more efficiently and achieve better results.

5. Assists in succeeding in the current job you have

In APD’s Cost Management certification Course we encourage you to participate in a project. This is a self-guided project to reinforce and apply the techniques you have learned in the course to assist you in a situation you may have on the job. There have been over $10M in Cost Saving success stories so far from the program.

If these examples on how the Cost Management Certification Program will help benefit your career are relevant to you, join us for APD’s 4-month online program and become a Certified Cost Management Professional.

Click for Cost Management Certification Brochure

Click for Upcoming Webinars on this Topic

About the Author: Michael Betz is an Account Manager for Advanced Purchasing Dynamics. Michael works with manufacturing companies to develop cost reduction programs and build cost fluency within purchasing organizations.